RCS Logistics Inc. Announces New Ownership and Executive Leadership Appointments, Marking Transformational Growth Phase

CHARLOTTE, N.C., Feb. 9, 2026 — RCS Logistics Inc. today announced a transformative new chapter for the company with new ownership under Brian G. Aldridge and Jeff Evanoff, alongside key C-suite leadership appointments that position the organization for accelerated global expansion.

This transition represents a significant investment in the company's future and reinforces RCS Logistics' long-standing commitment to operational excellence, customer-focused solutions, and global logistics innovation. Under Aldridge and Evanoff's ownership, RCS will continue building on its strong foundation and culture while charting a bold course for unprecedented growth.

"RCS was built on execution, relationships, and trust," said Brian G. Aldridge, Owner & Chief Commercial Officer. "With this new ownership structure and leadership team in place, we are doubling down on our promise to deliver high-touch, world-class logistics solutions while scaling intelligently across global markets."

The new executive leadership team brings together a rare blend of expertise from both the customer side and the freight-forwarding side of the industry — providing the insight, perspective, and operational discipline required to compete at the highest level while maintaining a boutique, relationship-driven service model.

"RCS is uniquely positioned — large enough to operate globally, yet agile enough to stay personal," added Jeff Evanoff, Chief Operating Officer & Owner. "That combination is our competitive edge and the foundation for disrupting the status quo in a market dominated by giants."

While the company's goals continue to evolve, its core promise remains unchanged: to deliver logistics solutions that inspire trust, enable success, and empower customers, partners, and team members around the world.

With gratitude to its customers, employees, and partners, RCS Logistics Inc. moves forward with purpose. The future of the organization is defined by bold innovation, unmatched agility, and limitless potential.
